CHAPTER #1 – INTRODUCTION TO PREMATURE EJACULATION

What exactly is “premature ejaculation”?

To answer this question in layman terms, it is simply when a male have sex with his partner, he ejaculates before his partner is sexually “satisfied” with the intercourse.

Basically, there are two types of premature ejaculation (also known as PE for short), namely short-term, as well as long-term premature ejaculation:

SHORT-TERM PREMATURE EJACULATION

This type of premature ejaculation is usually temporary and may be triggered by a variety of factors, which includes certain psychological spurs that may come in a form of stress or anxiety.

People suffering from short-term premature ejaculation need not fret, as it can be solved relatively easily and that is, he may either modify his way of living or prevent the factors that he may already know that result in him ejaculating prematurely.

LONG-TERM PREMATURE EJACULATION

The second type of premature ejaculation, which is long-term premature ejaculation, happens every single time you have sex with your partner.

And if this happens to you, you will need to seek help from a doctor for medical help and attention (while there are proven to work solutions to help you cure your premature ejaculation problem, you may need to check with your doctor if you are suitable to adopt those methods).

EFFECTS OF PREMATURE EJACULATION

Premature ejaculation comes along with many unwanted effects, and some of them include:

1. CONFIDENCE KILLED OFF

Men, who are sufferers of premature ejaculation, normally suffer from a lack of self-confidence as a result.

And without this self-confidence, it may affect them in such a way that they are unable to reach peak performance when at work (and hence affecting their promotion opportunities), or for those who are single, they may never be able to get their dream partner (due to the fact that most women do not like their guys to be lacking in self-confidence).

Not just that, those men who are married may even lose his wife as a result of not being able to satisfy her sexually! – I'm not kidding here.

There are many divorces that result simply because their husbands are unable to satisfy them sexually!

2. LACK OF SELF-ESTEEM

Self-confidence and self-esteem often goes hand-in-hand.

When you find yourself lacking in self-confidence, gradually you will lack self-esteem as well.

And many men simply just "self destruct" because they have fell into the dark hole of losing self-esteem and self-confidence, and they are never able to get back to a state they once were.

3. ZERO SEX DRIVE

Men suffering from premature ejaculation will eventually lose the interest for sex (as they know that they are unable to satisfy their partner).

Also, not to mention the fact that one's lost of self-confidence as well as self-esteem will also affect his sex drive.
